PRESS RELEASE

San Francisco

2nd August 2011

Yet another productivity app? Yes, but slightly different...

This application studies 5 completely diverse people with assorted expectations in life, portraying various life styles and needs. 5 friends that encompass the same goal; to create an application that will help them live life to the fullest!

The panel includes: an experienced entrepreneur, owner of a few companies, who knows how to earn money while simultaneously acquires the ability to run an overall sound business, an artist who wants to enjoy life and exposes a great deal of creativity while doing it, a handicapped father from a happy family who has depicted the values of which he stands firmly, a traveler and an environmentalist that lives for the sun to rise and to hear birds singing while surrounded by fun people, and finally a student who prepares carefully for the future yet enjoys her youth to the fullest.

These 5 people have set one common goal - to create an application (for web, iPhone and iPad) which will enable them to plan, take notes and enjoy life with one tiny detail, no boredom!

MOREDAYS is an application that connects various elements of all these people. It is an application which will help you plan your time concretely, make a note of important things and share them with your friends. All this attained in a fun and simple way. A diary, planner, scrapbook, address book and notebook, all in one!

You will love our app, check out our website and be the first who will try it out!
